Tesco boosts commitment to fresh, sustainable seafood

- Seafood
 - We seek to buy all our seafood from responsibly managed fisheries, to maintain a viable and long-term future for wild fish and shellfish populations.
 - We have Codes of Practice for farmed fish, which cover feed, welfare, environment and other critical issues. These are independently audited.
 - We provide information to our customers and have recently added additional sourcing information on our fresh range including catching methods.

Seafood Sustainability

- Grocery retailer Safeway has partnered with FishWise
- detailed sourcing assessment on behalf of Safeway, FishWise will prioritize suppliers and products for environmental improvement plans.
- Safeway will implement a traceability system to screen out suppliers of seafood

- The Carrefour Group has built its Sustainable Development policy on three interconnected pillars: economic, social and environmental issues. Sustainable Development a key element of the Group's strategy.
- The Group is thus working in collaboration with the WWF to draft and implement a policy for sustainable supply of seafood.
- Raising awareness of the Group's Values and ensuring compliance with ethical principles
- In 2002, the Carrefour Group defined the seven core Values of its business activities: Freedom, Responsibility, Sharing, Respect, Integrity, Solidarity and Progress.

Merkestrategier og bærekraft

- The Co-operative Group, Sainsbury's, Waitrose, M&S and Morrisons have been praised for their fish-sourcing policies by the Marine Conservation Society.

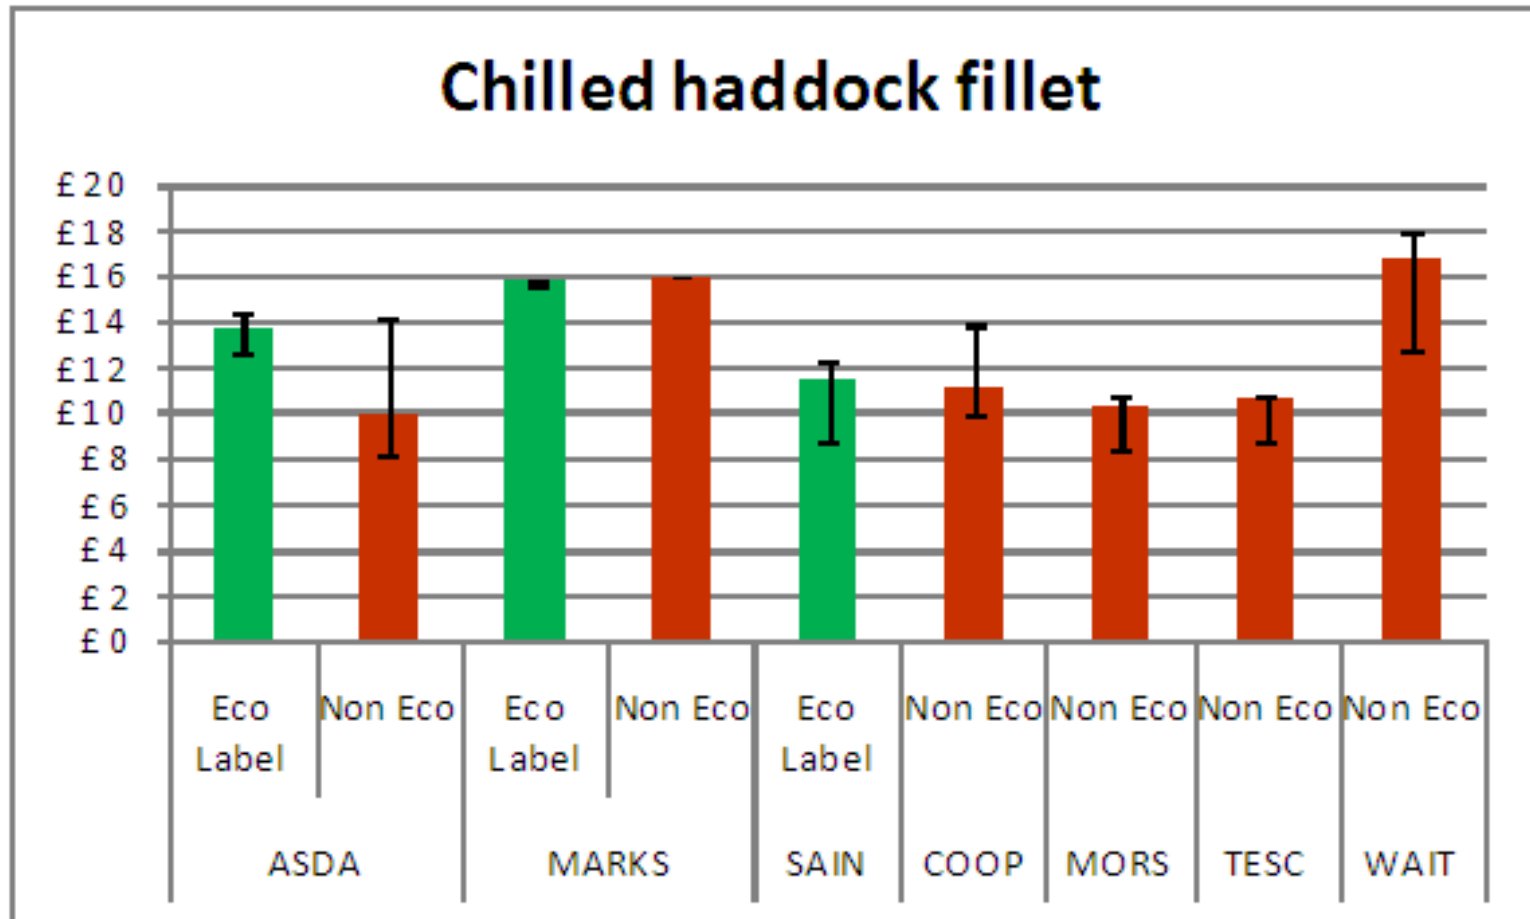

The Co-op was praised for eliminating all stocks from the MCS Fish to Avoid list while having the largest percentage of sales from the Fish to Eat list, which includes species such as coley, gurnard and dab.

All eight retailers that responded to the survey had improved their sourcing policies, MCS said. Further progress could come through delisting all of the Fish to Avoid list and improving labelling, it added
